

Socialism-Communism in America - Dana Marx

We should all remember that the goal of Communism has always been to move the US from its form, a Republic, into a Democracy which will deteriorate into mobocracy which will be brought into stability by a dictatorship, which will take us into One World, Global Government – Government – the new World Order run by the leaders of the Party.

Because of the work of my first husband, I spent all the years since the 1950s studying government. I began studying in the early 50's I think – under the auspices of the John Birch Society, etc. For the last twenty years, I concentrated on the TRUE history of the South. I happened upon the work of Al Benson and Donald Kennedy- and was totally flabbergasted to learn from them of the invasion of America by MARXIST COMMUNISTS in 1849. I learned of the creation of the Republican Party, the Marxists' success in restarting their failed European Revolution of 1848 right here in America – and against our South – after using the marching W A R boys in the big cities of the north – marching for War in the daytime and meeting secretly at night – was their modus operandi. I found it fascinating to study the cleverness of the Marxist propaganda – and how they disseminated it throughout the north – and how they indoctrinated (brainwashed) northerners with it – including preachers and teachers. . – And imagine! They were able to get one of their most efficient promulgators into the U.S. government and have him made the Assistant Secretary of War. Lincoln called the guy 'the eyes and ears of the Union.' His name was Charles Dana and he was a bosom buddy of Karl Marx. Dana had the distinction of being the first Communist in the U.S. government.

In fact it was Dana who managed to get Horace Greeley (also a Communist) to hire Marx. Marx wrote, before the War, for ten long years for the newspaper which had the widest circulation in America – the New York Tribune. Marx even wrote editorials for that paper. You may remember that Greeley's employed Alvin Bovay. Bovay was the main instigator for the creation of the Republican Party. Bovay was also a Communist. He and Greeley named the Party. The Party was created, interestingly, on the very stomping ground of one of Greeley's many northern communes – a just gone defunct one – but its inhabitants all must have remained there in Ripon, Wisconsin.

They started the party. (You'll never read that bit of truth in any Republican publication.) It is conveniently erased from Republican memories. Greeley was in the House of Representatives with Lincoln and they became friends. Lincoln, poorly educated that he was – was no big reader- at least not of books, but he gobbled down newspapers and never missed reading an issue of the Tribune. (One wonders how Lincoln, an inept reader managed to write coherently...maybe he had secretaries? It is said that his Gettysburg Address in the original form was pitiful, but someone polished it up. This, of course, is not surprising news – every U.S. President in my life time has had ghost writers.

In truth, Franklin D. Roosevelt used the services of numerous speech writers, according to Dr. Buhite and David W. Levy in their book entitled FDR's Fireside Chats, published by the University of Oklahoma Press, 1992. In the Buhite and Levy text, the authors lists speech writers as Harry Hopkins, Hugh Johnson, Raymond Moley, Rexford Tugwell, Benjamin Cohen, Thomas Corcoran, Donald Richberg, Adolf Berle and others. They list his WWII writers to include the famous Pulitzer Prize winners, poet-Librarian of Congress, Archibald MacLeish and Broadway playwrite Robert (Bob) Emmet Sherwood--(4 times a Pulitzer winner.)

One of the big ones, Robert Sherwood, , confessed before his death that he had strong guilt feelings and regrets especially for one speech he wrote- that was fully of lies- yet given as truth in one of Roosevelt's fireside talks – the one in which FDR declared to mothers of American sons – that their boys would never fight on foreign soil. Roosevelt and the speech writer both knew the deal had already been struck to send our young to fight and die in the defense of the Russian Communists in WWII. (I have known this truth for years- but couldn't remember Sherwood's first name – when I looked it up, I found a book has been written in which the ghost writers were named – and Sherwood is among them.

It feels as if I have almost forever known of the Communist effect on our United States government. In High School I questioned the propaganda that had us welcome the United Nations to our shores – I simply could not believe the lie that if we'd accept the UN, there would be no more wars.

Hey! They were right! We haven't had a single war since we joined the UN, have we? – Just never ending "Police" Actions with our boys under the control of the UN.

Most Americans who know of Communism's American involvement still mistakenly believe this happened only during the 1950s – that is , if it happened at all. It is now, at last, brought to the attention of the populace by the actions of the Democrats, coupled with the truth that the mainstay of the grand old Republican Party – the Bush family – supported – ohmygod- Democratic Hillary for President. – and the truth is now spreading that the Bushs have always been crooks- sold drugs- been involved in international horrors and murders perpetrated for money, for power- and for presence in the New World Order – which has been the goal of Communists since the Illuminati hired Marx to write their little book of rules, and Marx renamed the Party – called their beliefs-- COMMUNISM AND their PARTICIPANTS, COMMUNISTS.

Few Americans even remember the jubilant welcoming of the New World Order by Poppy Bush when he began the Bush presidential dynasty with his one and only term in office.

Since Mr. Marx wrote their book of rules – and urged war/rebellions/ overthrow as the means to get Communism into high gear, the word, Marxism was not only born, but entered the U.S. in 1849 and is still here. John Dewey brought updated Marxism into the U.S. and filled American schools with it. Updated Marxism, my name for it – originated in Russia, but moved to Germany before WWII – and the Marxists created the Frankfurt Institution. It was created as an offspring of a big German University. The Marxists there called themselves the Critical Theorists. They determined that the reason that Marxism had not achieved the overthrow of the U.S. government, as Marx had envisioned, was because Marx's target for utilization was too well off – had life too easy – had indoor plumbing- and wooden floors- had sports and beer – so would not rise up, riot and overthrow the U.S. government. That target, of course, was the proletarians (the working men). The Critical Theorists chose a new target – the offspring of the Bourgeois – (You should have received or will soon receive my little essay which tells more about the Bourgeois in America. – although you may know all about that bunch, already.) The Bushes and the Clintons fit right into the bourgeois classification, but actually compared to Europe – most Americans who own property do – and all kids going to college- become targets – because they are likely to be influential eventually.

The South back before the Marxist New Englanders reconstructed us- was filled with Bourgeois- because almost everyone owned a house and land on which they grew their own food and something else and sold some of it. Southerners, definitely, were property owners – another reason for the Marxist to wish to destroy us.
